[09:08] Elli Pinion: Hello all and thanks so much for being here. Who can believe it has already been 3 months since our last meeting? So much progress has already happened and here many of us are looking at Spring. We thank you for your support and enthusiasm.
I want to remind you of several ideas that is the basis for our group:
[09:09] Cat Controlling Human Body (phalielujah): Autumn here :)
[09:09] Elli Pinion: I want to remind you of several ideas that is the basis for our group:

- 1) a collaborative venture, open to all VW educators
- 2) to help ALL kinds of educators and educational communities (academic higher ed, K-12, teachers, life-long learners, etc) who utilize any or all virtual environments.
- 3) support, sharing successes, resources and addressing challenges
- 4) This will be a dynamic ongoing process and all are welcome. It is not a time to self-promote individuals or communities but to work together to support each other. ...and most of all, few meetings and we don't want to reinvent the wheel.

[09:09] Marly (marly.milena): There are empty seats for those standing

[09:10] Elli Pinion: A few things that have happened since we met:
For ease of communication we have two communication vehicles:
SL Group - Virtual Worlds Education Consortium
Metaverse Library Google Group (listserv), Educator Database, and we included those who were in attendance at our first meeting

[09:11] Max Chatnoir: I must say the size of this group is encouraging!

[09:14] Elli Pinion: We hope the calendar helps get the word out, as well as helps you plan your events around others.

[09:14] Elli Pinion: We are going to be a little bit Second Life heavy today, due to some fortunate events in March. We hope that this will expand out as we have more members in other VWs.

[09:15] Elli Pinion: As many of you know, VWBPE hosted three very helpful sessions with the Lindens at the conference last month. I will be sharing a list of ways you can get support and share your experiences with them later in the meeting.

[09:15] Elli Pinion: Today we are following up with your thoughts at the January VVEC meeting. But first, I would like to introduce Madori Linden, who is joining us today and at our future meetings. Madori was one of the guests at VWBPE and you can find a more thorough introduction for her at <https://www.vwbpe.org/conference/vwbpe-2021-reconnaissance-invited-speakers>

[09:15] Sitearm (sitearm.madonna): Madori Hello

[09:16] Elli Pinion: Madori Linden is a product specialist on the Land Operations team for Linden Lab. When we ask who is the LL education person, they point us to Madori. Interestingly, before coming to LL, she studies Socio Cultural Anthropology with a specialization in fringe societies within tech. She works towards making sure that #AVVILEARNING (avatar virtual learning) won't be just an idea, but part of the future of learning.

[09:16] Elli Pinion: Madori, would you like to share some information about yourself or your role that would help our group get to know you a bit? Let's give a warm welcome to Madori.

[09:16] Erik Mondrian: Hiya, Madori :)

[09:16] Zinnia Zauber: Rah Madori!

[09:17] Coughran Mayo: Yay!

[09:17] Valibrarian Gregg: Welcome Madori!!!!!!

[09:17] Gaio Wanderer: Hi Madori.

[09:17] Cat Controlling Human Body (phalielujah): hello Madori

[09:17] Zoe Foodiboo: Yay, Madori! :)

[09:17] Magua (magua.theriac): Hi Madori!

[09:17] Itxchel20: Welcome Madori :)

[09:17] Mildred35: Hi Madori :)

[09:20] Zinnia Zauber: We are so happy to have you!

[09:23] Elli Pinion: As we shared challenges we face teaching in SL, the Linden's shared these resources to help us. Several of these may warrant a conversation in subsequent meetings:

[09:24] Elli Pinion: Please note: Rockcliffe University Consortium has a Gateway set up so that students can create an avatar and land in their educational space without going through the SL public one. They land at the Rockcliffe University Onboarding Site. Virtual Ability and Caledon also have Onboarding Areas for your students to use.

[09:27] Max Chatnoir: I would!

[09:27] Valibrarian Gregg: Oh yes Madori! This group could share many tours and real educational examples.

[09:27] Elli Pinion: Madori takes new educators on tours.

[09:28] Elli Pinion: get her information if you want to be included in those.

[09:28] Dodge Threebeards: yes

[09:28] Magua (magua.theriac): you bet

[09:28] Zinnia Zauber: That is great! Happy to showoff!

[09:28] Sheila Yoshikawa: I think that taking them to somewhere like Inspiration Island would also be good

[09:28] Sheila Yoshikawa: it's not a "campus" but it's all about learning

[09:28] Elli Pinion: I would sincerely like to thank John O'Conner and Magua Theriac for your work in synthesising the pages of input that everyone gave at our last meeting. There were so many good ideas and areas shared, and even comments left for several folks. You can revisit them at:

It was interesting to see the various VWs that are being used and why. As Sitearm noted, there are over 200 public VWs.

[09:29] Elli Pinion: We looked at which VR Environments we use, Documenting Progress, Collaboration, Overcoming Obstacles, Distruptive Tech and Future Goals.

[09:30] Elli Pinion: Some resources shared by members:

[09:31] Elli Pinion: Some collaborations requested (we will talk about this a bit later in the agenda):

I'd love to find collaborators who have done a great job of induction into SL for students new to VWs who could collaborate on learning activities.

How do you get your institution onboard?

Sharing Best Practices

Networking parties

[09:32] Elli Pinion: A common theme that seemed to emerge in several areas was Mentoring. We need mentors when we come into a new environment, we become mentors as we become more proficient and then there are groups that feel they need to do a more formal approach to mentorship to help both students and instructors. We are all mentoring and want to understand how your groups mentor, what your focus is and how we can collaborate together.

[09:32] Elli Pinion: As this was discussed after the last meeting something emerged in regard to our "Office Hours Spreadsheet" and NPC's more formal weekly Mentor's Meeting. It was brought up that the term Office Hours is very academic, very Higher Ed. It isn't necessarily what folks are hoping to happen during times when they have set aside to be InWorld to meet with people. So labels were explored.

[09:33] ThinkererSelby Evans (thinkerer.melville): Consider developing mentoring bots

[09:33] Elli Pinion: This was very exciting because of the creativity that exploded over it. So we want to share that some folks are making their old Office Hours Coffee Shops, Coffee & Tea or just Let's Chat. As we explored this with NPC, their experience was that their students loved campfires. So the Cross Community Campfire Chat (4C) was born. Several have adopted this as their time to meet with other colleagues and discuss issues that they feel are important, or help others with learning how to use VWs for teaching and learning. So VVEC now includes the Cross Community Campfire Chat (4C) and we would love for you to adopt one if it fits your group.

[09:33] Max Chatnoir: It is!

[09:34] Valibrarian Gregg: Same thing with "reference hours" at our library reference desk! That is actually mentoring time and can be just hanging out at the library :) So we are putting a campfire right outside the library hehe

[09:34] Max Chatnoir: Nice idea!

[09:34] Zinnia Zauber: Rah 4C!

[09:35] Elli Pinion: In that, it was felt that this would be important for us to have our next conversation around. What does mentorship mean to your organization? How do you address it? Is it formal or informal? What are your needs around it?

[09:35] Elli Pinion: We want to remember that our organization is about sharing resources, supporting each other and helping with challenges? Do you have something you can share regarding mentoring instructors or students? Is there something you would love to work on with others? Is there something you would love to use that another organization offers regarding mentoring? What have we not thought of that you want to share?

[09:35] Elli Pinion: So we are going to break up into smaller groups and talk about this very important component of using VVs in education. We have four, five if needed, of our founding members who will be leading you.

[09:36] Elli Pinion: Who are you? What is your mission? What do you offer the general education community? Do you have a Website? Regular Meetings? Contact person? Concerns that the VVEC can assist with? How can we easily share that and help others find you?

[09:37] Elli Pinion: To get into groups, please follow me. Stand in one of the colors in the Opinionator, which we have tweaked to work for us today. When the groups are even, the bars in the center will match. Your group leader will give you a notecard with the LM to where you will meet with them at Rockcliffe or here at UNM. Please meet them there.

[09:39] Cat Controlling Human Body (phalielujah): do the colours specify anything

[09:39] Dodge Threebeards: yes

[09:39] Zinnia Zauber: Orange always needs more love.

[09:41] ThinkererSelby Evans (thinkerer.melville): must go

[09:43] Marylou Goldrosen: I like green

[09:43] Marylou Goldrosen: ???????

[09:44] Marylou Goldrosen: First time here

[09:45] Marylou Goldrosen: Breakout groups now - where to go?

[09:46] Second Life: Elli Pinion gave you VVEC 4-7-21 Orange Group.

[09:47] Marylou Goldrosen: Nice place - What group should I go to?

[10:10] Valibrarian Gregg: Nice to hear Phelan's voice :)

[10:13] Suemoon Magic: ☺

[10:13] Wisdomseeker (lissena): no it was not!

[10:13] Zinnia Zauber: It was awesome!

[10:13] Max Chatnoir: It never is!

[10:19] Elli Pinion: It is!

[10:20] Elli Pinion: Shared resources...

[10:21] Marly (marly.milena): The Age of Acquarius!

[10:21] Elli Pinion: :-)

[10:21] Elli Pinion: Please be sure to add your name and information to our educator data base:

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSdqt5TIZTYdLvQnSUH1vm_DmYy0i_gYByTBuMdUoxh3Fch_PA/viewform

[10:22] Rhiannon Chatnoir: yes talked about the orientation resources/curriculum we could share from AvaCon.org

[10:22] Zinnia Zauber: We also talked about different worlds.

[10:22] Valibrarian Gregg: Good point! A list of mentors and specializations would be a great addition to the community spreadsheet @Zinnia

[10:22] Zinnia Zauber: Yes, right, sharing the resources.

[10:22] Erik Mondrian: Good point. There is definitely a cultural learning curve, in addition to the technical

[10:23] LuxTergeste: Agreed

[10:23] Zinnia Zauber: Sitearm also suggested we create a database of Research projects of PhD students.

[10:23] Itxchel20: Green group -Inspiration is a very strong part of the mentoring role.

Mentoring is about being a role model. It is about the unwritten rules.

When mentoring newcomers to SL it's not about how to teach it's about the unwritten rules of society, interaction rules that new people may not be aware of.

Having a person to go to for practical advice, translating formal learning principles into practice. What you might not find written down.

Suggestion from Madori: Would keep a list of active mentors.

[10:24] Wisdomseeker (lissena): our group was made up of lifelong learners

[10:25] Elli Pinion: TY all!!!

[10:25] Erik Mondrian: XD

[10:25] Marylou Goldrosen: For Nonprofits, Rhiannon/ Buffy/Zinnia still mentor/help members today!!

[10:25] Elli Pinion: We have a Cross Community Campfire Chat at the VVEC Pavilion - hosted by Dodge that will be happening two times a week starting Thursday, April 8th at 9:30 am SLT. Also on Wednesdays after that at 3:30 pm SLT.

<https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/1jYIwyo50p8-Jr008I006a4CHUhydDmoqv5l81W1KY0Y/edit#gid=0We>

[10:25] Zinnia Zauber: Thank you, Marylou!

[10:26] Marly (marly.milena): So, will all of these notes be in a Google Doc which everyone will have a link to?

[10:26] Dodge Threebeards: tomorrow at 3:30

[10:26] Dodge Threebeards: no sorry Tomorrow at 9:30

[10:26] Valibrarian Gregg: The notes will be on the CVL website @marly for archival of VVEC

Wed Oct 6th at 9am SLT Hosted and facilitated by Sheila Yoshikawa

[10:27] Zinnia Zauber: Remember to send friends requests all around!

[10:27] Eddayo: Thank you Elli!

[10:27] Suemoon Magic: Thanks Elli

[10:27] Sheila Yoshikawa: there is also a group "SL Researchers" which I am an admin on - it's been dormant, but there might be interest in reviving it?
